

previous article

The scorpion thus chose destruction ...

Let us not be afraid of words : we are living the biggest genocide ever premeditated and executed against humanity, since besides the nuclear holocaust threat, it aims to poison, in 5 years, at least 2 billion people, including especially the Western (Western European and Northern American) populations. Until now, most victims have been swindled, because in their collective imagination, for the vast majority of people, it was beyond comprehension.

Public opinion has struggled to admit that the accused pluto-imperialists could be able of organizing such a mega-sacrifice to avenge their ultimate failure. Yet their actions show that they want to destroy as much as possible what they have missed -the resources of nations- because they have failed to impose in it the illegitimate Great Reset that would have saved them from the general collapse that they had since a long time themselves provoked.

In this spirit, the massive anti-Covid19 pseudo-vaccination that they imposed on the victim peoples, through very strong pressure and threats, was in fact a repeated injection of lethal substances with staggered effects, causing incurable pathologies. For the victims, in addition to infertility, it results in a diversion of their natural protective antibodies, by a flawed genetic reprogramming, combined with a corrosive and thrombogenic action of spike proteins, to sabotage each attacked organism, until its death, sometimes early, but more often after a long and hard disability, as the harmful effects are made as sordid as irreversible.

And there, even if the "injected" ones are mainly sacrificed, many non-injectees are also condemned, notably as a result of famines, epidemics temporarily made untreatable by dilapidated healthcare structures, and by civil violence, wars, and many other cumulative evils. It has become clear and convincing that the false Covid19 pandemic had to conceal and exploit such a general collapse, initiated since at least 2008, by imposing a strengthened control of the populations, and new societal rules favorable to the predatory pluto-imperialist. This process having escaped its manipulators, by multiple reactive oppositions, it continues on its own chaotic way.

So it's not all over. In particular, when the victims who are still robust enough will realize that they have been murdered on the pretext of protecting them, their reaction will likely be terribly violent. But as I previously announced, I prefer to stop here the follow-up of these events, and to propose instead to meet again when we will need to rebuild. What will happen sooner or later.

In the meantime, let's not forget an important point : the pluto-imperialists will still try for some time, by all means, to make the responsibility of the ongoing Western societal collapse on the reactions (provoked) of the victim peoples. If they can't, or not enough, do it, they could try to engage NATO in an ultimate nuclear military confrontation, where the Russians will then have to strike hard in first to protect themselves, and all the more radically ridding the world of pluto-imperialist dystopia. Bets therefore remain open for an internal systemic collapse, with or without external coup de grace.

MC